

Name: Chehana Samarawickreme

Role: Consultant

Education: Bachelors of Arts in Business and Nonprofit Management from Earlham College

Sectors: nonprofit, corporate social responsibility

Specialties: community development, international development, fundraising, strategic communications

Professional Experience: Chehana is an experienced nonprofit fundraiser, focusing on corporate partnerships at Habitat for Humanity New York City. With a multi-million dollar goal, Chehana works with Fortune 100 and 500 companies to create meaningful philanthropic partnerships that give back to New York City.

Affiliations: StartingBloc Social Innovation Fellow and member of Ladies Get Paid

Personal Interests: reading, singing, tennis

Passion for Social Impact: Chehana is passionate about intersectionality and supporting marginalized communities both locally and internationally.