

Name: Jasmine Clerisme

Role: Consultant

Education: MPA in Economic and Political Development from Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs and BA in Politics from Princeton University

Sectors: nonprofit, corporate social responsibility

Specialties: fundraising, project management, agriculture, health, education, WASH (water, sanitation and hygiene), and human rights, international development

Professional Experience: Jasmine is an experienced international development professional having worked across Africa and Haiti. Jasmine served as the inaugural Manager for Corporate Social Responsibility Strategy at Sierra Rutile Limited (SRL), a mining company based in Sierra Leone, where she was tasked with developing and implementing a sustainable community investment strategy for a rural population of 150K. Jasmine has also been actively involved with volunteering for the board of CORRECT Health in Haiti since its founding in 2002.

Certifications: Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) Certification

Personal Interests: Running, cooking, yoga, spoiling her dog

Passion for Social Impact: Jasmine is passionate about transforming communities through education and economic empowerment by providing those who live there with the tools and resources needed to lift themselves out of poverty.